Why Baldness is Increasing — The Opinion of a Famous Hair Expert.

Opinion of a Famous Hair Expert. From the Philadelphia Ledger.
Undoubtediy baidness is on the increase, particularly among young men. The sale of wigs gets larger every year.
One of the leading causes of baldness is the stiff hat. Bowler and silk hats exert a firm pressure around the head, preventing the circulation of the blood. Soft hats would be less hurtful; no hat would be still better. Most of the artificial hair sold in this country comes from the heads of the peasant girls of Europe. Hair cutters constantly go about making bargains for this hair. These girls never wear hats.
There are more bald heads in the cities, where stiff hats are worn, than in the rural districts, where the men wear a looser head covering.

Mr. McMillan yesterday introduced in the

To Amend District Bill.

Mr. McMillan yesterday introduced in the Senate proposed amendments to the District appropriation bill, as follows: Paving Florida avenue between 1st and 4th streets northwest, $14,000; for purchase of land necessary to open Rhode Island avenue between 1st street west and Lincoln avenue, $6,000.

Senator Mason proposed an amendment to House bill 2826, granting certain extensions to the Capital Traction Company, providing for an additional extension, as follows: Beginning at 14th and Park streets northwest, thence north along 14th street to Lydecker avenue, north by single track to Spring road, thence east along Spring road to Holmead avenue, thence south along Holmead avenue to Lydecker avenue, thence through Lydecker avenue to 14th street.

What Influenced Him.

"My determination," he said, "was influenced by my many friends, who have written letters suggesting that I should be come from all over the country, some from New York, a large number from the south, and some from the Pacific coast. It was in response to these suggestions that I have taken the course announced. Since the announcement was made I have received a number of telegrams from my friends commending the action I have taken and promising me their support. I am deeply gratified to them for their kindness. These are the considerations which have urged me to change my mind from the original statement I made on my return from Manila that I would not be a candidate for the office."

The admiral does not throw any further office."

The admiral does not throw any further light on the question of party or platform that might be involved in his candidacy, though it is Intimated that he has some very decided opinions on some subjects.

The matter is generally made a joke of by men in Congress. They say they do not know where he is going to get his nomination or his votes. One prominent man in Congress said, "Oh, it is a woman's affair; a petticoat candidacy."

Another said, "Why, if we should give him the nomination he might deed it away to some one else."

Where the matter is taken seriously at all, republicans and democrats are each suspicious that the other is trying to put up a job for the injury of the candidate on the other side.

Senator Tillman's View.

Senator Tillman said: "I have always said the democrats would nominate Bryan and that McKinley would be nominated by the republicans, so I don't see where Admiral Dewey is going to get his nomina tion. Senator Proctor of Vermont said:

THE FAMINE IN INDIA.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage Wants Fund

Used if Available. The controller of the treasury has reeived from the Secretary of the Navy a communication addressed to the Navy Department by Rev. DeWitt Talmage, 16questing information on whether the Navy Department is authorized to transport con-Department is authorized to transport contributions for the relief of the suffering poor in India under the act of Congress, approved April 7, 1897, and amended on June 1, 1897. Dr. Tallmage has taken a personal interest in this matter and conferred with the controller of the treasury as to whether the appropriation then made is now available, the Navy Department having decided that they are unaware of the availability.

The controller says that the resolutions fix no limit of time within which the object provided for shall be executed and the appropriation is not made specifically for the service of any particular fiscal year. If, therefore, the famine existing in India in April, 1897, is still in existence, and the object provided for has not yet been accomplished, the appropriation is still available. If, however, the famine then existing has in the meantime ceased the appropriation is not available. He also thinks that if the provisions made in the acts have been complied with the authority granted by the bill had been exhausted and that the appropriation and that the appropriation and that the appropriation is not available. tributions for the relief of the suffering plied with the authority granted by the bill had been exhausted, and that the approhad been exhausted, and that the appropriation was no longer available.

Mr. Talmage informs the controller that the famine in India in 1897 has continued and still exists, and that only one of the two vessels provided for in the bill has been employed in carrying out the object of the resolution. Under this state of facts the controller thinks that the Navy Department is authorized to now employ a second vessel is authorized to now employ a second vessel to carry out the object provided for, and that the amount of such appropriation re-maining unexpended is available for the purpose. ALLEGED DEFECTIVE SHELLS. Belief is That the Charges Will Not

Be Sustained. The naval ordnance bureau is still prosecuting the inquiry instituted last week into allegations that some defective 4-inch shells were accepted by the navy from the Driggs were accepted by the navy from the Driggs Seabury Company of Derby, Conn. Reports have been received from Lieutenant Anderson, the naval inspector at Derby, and some of the shells in question have reached Washington.

The conclusion of the officials at this point is that the charges will not be sustained. The reports do not make it plain that any of the ammunition was defective in a degree warranting or demanding its rejection by the inspectors, the most serious fault so far detected being a slight eccentricity in the case of a very few shells, nor is it even established that any of these shells were passed by the naval inspector.

DEWEY IS PLEASED ACT WAS PREMEDITATED

Police Authorities, However, Think Some One Prompted Him to

BRUSSELS, April 5 .- The attempt at the ssassination of the Prince of Wales yes terday was the sole topic of conversation on the streets and in the cafes and theaters last evening. Everywhere regret and deep indignation were manifested, and satisfaction at the failure of the criminal at tempt was unanimously expressed.

It is stated that when the crowd rushed at Sipido he received a blow from some one's fist in the face which drew blood. One version of Sipido's statement is that he declared that he committed the act he cause he was an anarchist and that he did not allude to South Africa.

It is believed that the chamber of deputles and the senate will today adopt reso lutions expressing indignant reprobation of the attempt upon the prince's life.

Act Was Premeditated.

The Patriote says: "Investigation proves premeditation. The interrogation of the prisoner lasted four hours and it shows that who persuaded him to buy a pistol on Sun-day in the old market for 3 francs. Accompanied by this person Sipide went on Tues and then to the Malson du Peuple, where they had drinks. Then they went to a wine shop, where Sipido wrote a letter saying shop, where Sipido wrote a letter saying he had obtained employment. He then went to the railway station and asked the hour of the arrival of the train. Later he entered a neighboring cafe and loaded his revolver in the lavatory. Sipido refused to give the name of his companion, who, he said, was a young man some years older than himself. After Sipido was locked up the magistrates went to the house of his the magistrates went to the house of his According to the Etoile Belge, Sipido ex-

According to the Etolie Belge, Sipido explained his motive as follows:

"For a long time I have thought that the ambitious men who are unchaining war sacrifice so many human lives that they deserve to be punished. These men should suffer the penalty of retaliation. When I learned by the papers that the Prince of Wales was going to pass through Brussels I immediately resolved to become the avenger of humanity and kill this assassin. On Sunday I went to the old market and On Sunday I went to the old market and bought a second-hand revolver and cartridges. I had then made up my mind to carry out my project. I regret that I have not accomplished it as I desired."

Trying to Shield Some One. The magistrates, struck by the incoher does not tell the whole truth and wisher the truth of the prisoner's statement. Sipido passed the afternoon in the chamber of representatives. When he went to the station he asked the first person he met where the Prince of Wales was. The person answered: "That is the gentleman with the hat on At the same instant the prince took a seat At the same instant the prince took a seat a servant handed him a cup of tea. Slpido waited until the servant departed and then rushed toward the prince's carriage.

The ocmmitment charges the prisoner with an attempt at assassination. Slpido's parents were deeply moved at the act of their son. His mother exclaimed:

"What a disgrace for us, who have always worked hard and have sacrificed so much to bring up our children. We have nine, the youngest barely two years old.
